Hello, I'm the author of this blog. My name is Robert Anderson and I am a proud graduate of West Virginia University. I earned my diploma in Electronics (CeDiploma) and it was a challenging but rewarding experience. I have always had a passion for technology and electronics, and my education at West Virginia University has given me a strong foundation in the field. As a graduate of West Virginia University, I have had the opportunity to work with some of the brightest minds in the field of electronics. I was exposed to a diverse range of topics, from circuit design to signal processing, which helped me develop a broad understanding of the subject.
